The Public Sector Procurement Forum

The inaugural annual CIPSA Public Sector Procurement Forum (PSPF) is set to instantly become the premier networking conference event for public sector procurement professionals in Australia.

Together with a follow-up biennial event in Adelaide to be hosted by the South Australian government on 10-11th August 2006, this event is the only conference dedicated to public sector employees endorsed by CIPSA and the Australian Procurement and Construction Council (APCC).

In a climate where the importance of capturing best value for every dollar spent in public procurement has never been higher, the PSPF programme has been developed to enable procurement professionals from all levels of government to discuss and share thoughts and experiences on what constitutes best practice.

The programme recognises the wide-ranging challenges unique to the public sector procurement professionals as they try to deliver value within an ever tighter legal framework and rigid processes.

The conference has been developed as a one-and-a-half-day event, providing delegates with a tightly packed agenda and excellent networking opportunities, while minimising time out of the office.

I look forward to seeing you in Canberra,

Jonathan Dutton
Managing Director
CIPS Australia Pty Ltd
